

August 23, 1999

POLITICS

Predictions: If the Crown Fits ...

IF YOU THOUGHT FUND-RAISING PROWESS WOULD WEED OUT THE next ruler of the free world, think again. Pols have raised the art of election speculation to a science (sort of). A roundup of presidential predictors:

PARTING COMPANY

Some say male leaders who brush their locks from the left emphasize their left-brain strength of analysis. Jimmy Carter started on the right, but switched to the left too late. The only man in the lead who leans to the right? Al Gore.

